CAREER OVERVIEW

Linda brings a wealth of experience, gained from many sectors, to her role as a Business Analyst at Whittle Consulting. Working closely with the Consulting and Technical teams, Linda assists with the translation, adaption and refinement of raw technical mining data.

Using her high-level Excel and data analytics expertise, Linda enjoys finessing numerical and computational data into the required data sets. When appropriately manipulated, this information can then be used within the Whittle business model, and ultimately, can be successfully analysed and exploited by the Whittle proprietary software, Prober-E.

In conjunction with the Whittle Consulting team, Linda creates optimised business modelling for the mining industry. The aim is to discover, develop and exploit both incremental and radical NPV improvements, across all commodities for mining projects and operations worldwide.
